PRIOR 5 CENTS

WILL SUFFER DEATH For Damon Murder By HANGMAN'S HAND

Judge Gear Sentences Jose Miranda To The Gallows For Causeless Killing
--Man Begs For Life Sentence
--Governor Notified.

"Jose Miranda, it is the sentence of this Court that you suffer the penalty of death—that you be hung by the neck until you are dead—and may God have mercy on your soul."

In criminal court this forenoon Judge Gear sentenced the murderer of Samuel Edward Damon to the gallows. A great and a mixed crowd filled the court-room.

Sentence was set for 10 o'clock and the murderer was in waiting in the law library, adjoining the court-room, in charge of Special Officer McDuffie. He was handcuffed and closely watched. It was discovered that there was no Porto Rican or Spanish Interpreter on hand and sentence could not very well be passed without the prisoner understanding what was going on. Deputy Attorney General Prosser immediately sent out for an interpreter. There is no regular Spanish court interpreter, owing to the economy measures of the last Legislature, and it became necessary to scour around for somebody to do the work. After forty minutes' delay Interpreter Gomez was secured and sworn in.

Jose Miranda was brought before the bar. He was exceeding pale and he appeared as one long without sleep. Dark rings encircled his eyes and he stood with head slightly bowed and hands crossed as if he still wore the handcuffs which had been removed before he was brought into court.

"Jose Miranda," said the Judge, "the Grand Jury duly found against you an indictment for murder in the first degree, for the killing of Samuel Edward Damon. You pleaded not guilty and were tried by a fair and impartial jury. The Court appointed to defend you two of the most able and learned counsel of the Bar. After due deliberation, considering all the evidence, the jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree, for which the law provides the penalty of death."

"Jose Miranda, have you anything to say at this time which you sentence should not be passed upon you?"

Miranda spoke in a low tone, hastily and nervously to the interpreter and the latter stated that he had said: "I am not satisfied that I should be sentenced, for I was drunk when I did this thing."

"You were allowed to take the stand in your own behalf," said the Court, "and you told your story to the jury. They considered your story with the evidence and found you guilty."

"You may find me guilty, but I do not find myself guilty," said the murderer.

"Well, that's a matter for your conscience and with your God," said Judge Gear.

Continuing, the Court said: "Jose Miranda, it becomes the duty of this Court to pass sentence. It is the sentence of this Court that you suffer the penalty of death—that you be hung by the neck until you are dead—and may God have mercy on your soul."

"I am not satisfied with the sentence," said Miranda, according to the words of the interpreter. "I ask the Court to punish me by imprisonment for life."

NOT REAL WAR BUT MERELY A PREPAREDNESS

W. G. Irwin, one of the directors of the Honolulu Sugar Company, and the head of that plantation agency, said to a Bulletin reporter this morning regarding the report that that plantation will refine its entire sugar output and market it through its own agents on the coast: "I do not understand it to be the purpose of the sugar company to fight the trust or to sever business relation with it. So far as I know, the refining feature is being installed at the mill primarily for the purpose of protection to ourselves. Our present contract with the Sugar Trust expires shortly and we are getting in shape to take care of ourselves should the Sugar Trust not be willing to make a new contract with terms satisfactory to us. That is as far as we have gone in the matter."

Mr. Irwin stated that the refining plant would be capable of handling an output of 22,000 tons next year.

BECKLEY WILL SPEAK.

Admiral Beckley has had a conference with the Republican managers of the campaign and has pledged himself to make a few speeches, later on, for Delegate Kuhio and the Republican ticket. He will probably make his first speech in Hilo.

CLOUD OF WITNESSES IN "MORAL" CASES ABOUT FEDERAL COURT

A crowd of almost one hundred Japanese and Chinese are camped in the halls of the Judiciary building and on the lawns of the grounds, awaiting their turn as witnesses before the Federal Grand Jury now in session. A large number of these witnesses are women, Japanese women. Some wear babies on their backs after the manner of their kind; family groups are taking comfort in the shade of the palm trees and cultivating patience.

The cases in which they are to be called are many and varied. Just at present the Grand Jury is handling a variety of matters: one is a liquor case from the other side of the island. In this Deputy Sheriff Lane and other important witnesses are interested. Matters of immorality have largely to do with the crowd filling the corridors, cases left over from the crusade against the ten-dollar club. The sale of women as chattels, the stealing of wives and alleged conspiracy to violate Federal moral statutes generally are involved. District Attorney Breckons has his hands full and Marshal Hendry is kept busy running after witnesses as they are needed.

TO HELP THE BOYS

The committee in charge of the Boys' Clubs of Honolulu are making an effort to raise funds to be used for further needed improvements in the field of Liliha street. The sum needed to make improvements and to pay running expenses for the next twelve months is figured at $3,500. Over $500 of this sum is in sight and a subscription list will be circulated to secure the balance. The money is needed for painting the Trade School building and for putting the Liliha street grounds into shape.

T. B. Lyons, formerly connected with the office of the Territorial Auditor, is this afternoon on the witness stand in the embezzlement case against E. S. Boyd. He is testifying in regard to certain leases involved in the accounts of the land office.

News has been received at the Naval Station that the cruiser Buffalo will be sent to Midway. No reason for this trip was given in the cablegram, which was of an unofficial nature.

Judge Gear is still occupied with I. Rubenstein vs. H. Hackfeld & Co., the "Little Joker" tobacco controversy.

Nomination Papers Tied Up For A Few Hours

Will Charles Notley be able to get his name on the official ballot? That was a question which worried the Home Rule leaders and puzzled the officials at the Capitol building who have to interpret Hawaii's crude election laws. It was also a question highly interesting to the leaders of all parties, for with Notley out of the race it was a mooted question whether Kuhio or Lauka would profit most.

The question arose by reason of Notley's failure to file his nomination papers yesterday, which was the last day before the thirty day period prior to election day.

The question was settled this afternoon by an opinion of Attorney General Andrews that the papers should be accepted. He said nominations for Delegate should be accepted up to the latest date at which it would be possible to print the name on the ballots. Accordingly Clerk Buckland accepted the fee this afternoon and the prospective knot was straightened out.

When Notley's friends realized this morning that a hitch might arise in the matter, there was a hustle among the Home Rulers. David Notley, brother to the Home Rule candidate for Congress, went to W. A. Kinney, the family's attorney and borrowed twenty five dollars with which to pay the filing fee. With Senator Kalaupapa David Notley went early to the Secretary's office to file the belated papers.

C. R. Buckland, chief clerk of the Secretary, was in charge of the office. Governor Carter on the other side of the island.

Mr. Buckland refused to take the money and returned the papers, passing the question up to Secretary Atkinson, who will return tomorrow. Mr. Buckland did not have a decided opinion one way or the other, whether Notley's papers could be legally filed now or not. He said there was an opening for wide divergence of legal opinion and did not wish to pass on it before consulting with Attorney General Andrews and the Territorial Secretary.

JURY SECURED IN BOYD EMBEZZLEMENT CASE

But little difficulty was experienced in securing a jury for the trial in Judge Robinson's court of Former Land Commissioner Edward S. Boyd, charged with embezzlement of land funds. The case was commenced yesterday and the trial is now under way with the following gentlemen in the box: Percy Lishman, Chas. P. Osborne, J. J. Sullivan, L. C. King, Willard E. Brown, J. C. Cohen, Patrick Ryan, Norman Watkins, Harry A. Wilder, Wm. T. Erving, J. R. Menzies and C. J. Falk.

Attorney General Lorrin Andrews is personally conducting the prosecution and Attorney S. F. Chillingworth is defending. J. J. Dunne was originally engaged in the matter with Chillingworth but has withdrawn.

Joseph B. Brown was the first witness called for the Territory. The defense was strenuous in its objections to the introduction in evidence of receipts given for various amounts taken into the land office when Boyd was Commissioner.

The steamer Noeau, which arrived early this morning from Hawaii ports, had quite an unpleasant experience yesterday while she was at Napoosoo, Kona. The vessel was engaged in taking on board a load of cattle from the Paris ranch. To this end a boat was sent ashore connected to the steamer with a surf line. The boat was lying quite close to the shore, the crew and the cowboys being busy taking the cattle from shore and attaching them to the gunwale of the boat when the proceedings were interrupted by an accident. Three steers had been tied by the horns to the boat when the very heavy swell which was running caused the surf-line to break.

The huge rollers immediately swept the boat ashore, washing it up on the beach, where it was overturned. A great mix-up resulted. The cattle which were tied to the boat and a couple of Japanese sailors who were in the boat when the surf-line broke were imprisoned together under the overturned craft. In spite of the frantic kicking of the wild steers the Japanese escaped unhurt. One of the steers had its spine broken and died. The Hawaiian boat steerer, who had charge of the boat, had his ear badly cut. The boat was soon righted and again connected with the surf-line and the rest of the work completed without accident.

Public Confidence

It is difficult to obtain and easy to lose. For thirty years thousands of correct dressers have had implicit confidence in the clothes bearing this famous trade-mark.

Alfred Benjamin & Co.
MAKERS * NEW YORK

There are more reasons for this than there is space in which to tell them. Take BENJAMIN Spring Suits as an example. The fabrics are rich, varied, and exclusive; the fit is individual and perfect; the styles, like Poole's of London, are conservative but correct; the tailoring is equal to that of the best London and New York custom-shops; the prices are reasonable and right. Is it strange that BENJAMIN Clothes have enjoyed public confidence for so many years? Is it any wonder that ALFRED BENJAMIN & CO. are to America what Poole is to England—leaders in sartorial art? We are Exclusive Distributors here of this famous apparel.
